The British Rail Class 40 is a type of British railway diesel locomotive.A total of 200 were built by English Electric between 1958 and 1962. They were numbered D200-D399. They were for a time the pride of the British Rail early diesel fleet. Despite their initial success, by the time the last examples were entering service they were already being replaced on some top-link duties by more ...

An outboard motor is a propulsion system for boats, consisting of a self-contained unit that includes engine, gearbox and propeller or jet drive, designed to be affixed to the outside of the transom. They are the most common motorized method of propelling small watercraft. As well as providing propulsion, outboards provide steering control, as they are designed to pivot over their mountings and ...

I have a 2006 115 4stroke. It idles fine but when I try to plane off it's so sluggish/not full powered but sometimes if I throttle all the way out for a bit it acts okay. Once I stop though it starts to happen again. I have a fuel water separator and it really was pretty clean and I run ethanol free fuel all the time. Any and all advice will be greatly appreciated.
