The song Be Present At Our Table, Lord is one of several that can be sung as an English or Norwegian table prayer at meals. As an predominately Lutheran country since 1537, to say this song has a long tradition in Norway is no exaggeration! The music is attributed to the Genevan Psalter (a song book) in 1551 and the original lyrics were written by British hymnist John Cennick in 1741.

Of all the phraseology that we used in Reformed churches, among the most misunderstood is that of "fencing the table." You will most certainly hear this phrase in those churches that take the Word and sacraments with the utmost seriousness—churches with leadership that deeply desire to obey Jesus' instructions concerning church discipline (Matt. 18:15-20).

Eucharist. The Greek noun εὐχαριστία (eucharistia), meaning "thanksgiving", appears fifteen times in the New Testament but is not used as an official name for the rite; however, the related verb is found in New Testament accounts of the Last Supper, including the earliest such account: For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when ...

"Open Communion" "Ecumenically, the term 'open communion' ... means that all of the baptized are welcome to receive," explains the Rev. Taylor Burton-Edwards, director of worship resources with Discipleship Ministries. This distinguishes our invitation from some other Christian denominations that may require additional rites before one is welcome to the table.
